

10th European Conference on Antennas and Propagation

10-15 April 2016, Davos, Switzerland

THE CONFERENCE

The European Conference on Antennas and Propagation is owned by The European Association on Antennas and Propagation (EurAAP) and is organised each year since 2006, which makes this our tenth anniversary and a very special edition, taking us back to Davos where it all started in 2000 with the AP Conference!

The conference is supported by top level Associations on Antennas and Propagation and provides a forum on the major challenges faced by these communities. Contributions from European and non-European industries, universities, research centres and other institutions are solicited. The conference will provide an overview of the current state-of-the-art in Antennas, Propagation and Measurements topics, highlighting the latest developments and innovations required for future applications.

The conference combines the following features:

- Plenary sessions with invited keynote speakers
- Oral sessions (both convened and regular)
- Poster sessions
- Short Courses and Workshops
- Exhibition

ABOUT DAVOS AND THE CONGRESS CENTRE

Davos is a town in the Grison region in Switzerland renowned as a conference centre which hosts, among many others, the World Economic Forum (WEF). Being the highest town in the Swiss Alps at an altitude of 1560m, it is also a major winter and summer sports centre with an international flavour and a huge range of activities.

In the centre of Davos, visitors will find a wide range of accommodation and excellent shopping, with numerous boutiques, cafés and restaurants. At night, too, there's plenty of entertainment, with bars, discos and a casino. Davos is also the headquarters of the well-known Weissfluhjoch/Davos Federal Institute for Snow and Avalanche Research.

The Congress Centre is located in the middle of Davos, between Davos Dorf and Davos Platz. The venue consists of three sections, A, B and C which will all be available for EuCAP 2016. The exhibition will be located throughout the conference centre, with several coffee stations in the exhibition area, ensuring a constant flow of participants.
